

Windpower Offshore Intelligence/Research tool

Thank you for your interest in the Windpower Offshore Intelligence/Research tool

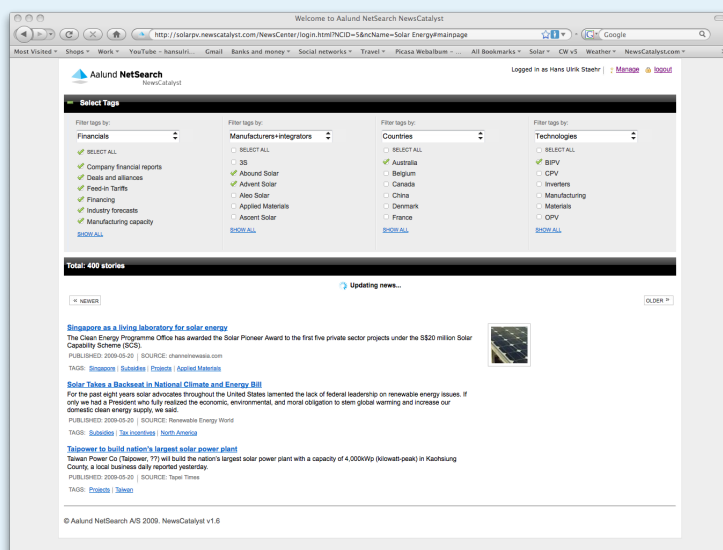

The tool is a global intelligence service, covering news and important events in the global windpower offshore industry - personalized to each users specific needs and industry focus.

Our analysts use advanced search tools to cover the global windpower offshore industry. We search through 70.000 media globally, 250 wind industry sources/wires, 500+ key player websites, all relevant associations, regulatory sources etc.

Every day our team evaluates all the stories that are published and filtered through the search tools.

As the stories appear, our analysts select and abstract the most important news, and add filters that users can control via the portal.

Based on feedback from our windpower offshore expert panel and clients, we adjust the sources, filters etc. on an ongoing basis.
