Kaizen Software Solutions releases Home Manager 2005

Kaizen Software Solutions has just announced the release of Home Manager 2005, a Windows software program for organizing and tracking your residence and asset details.

/24-7PressRelease.com/ - Fremont, CA - May 14, 2005 - Home Manager 2005 makes it possible for a homeowner or renter to get organized and create a complete inventory of everything they own. In addition, home organizing and home inventory service companies may keep records for all of their clients, as the software now allows for individual tracking of an unlimited number of residences.

Home Manager 2005 tracks detailed information about your residence including asset values, warranty information, repair and maintenance history, and an unlimited number of digital images for each item. Quickly find these details at any time using the built-in search feature. For added security, create a backup file and save it to disk or as an email attachment. You may also create an inventory report, complete with serial numbers and pictures, to be printed for off-site storage.

Home Manager 2005 is currently available at special promotional pricing of $29.95, and can be purchased on-line through the company's website at: <http://www.kzsoftware.com>.
