Hi-Heeled Designs Provides Fabulous Items For Lindsay Lohan's Birthday Goodie Bags
Lindsay Lohan celebrated her 19th birthday this past Sunday following the world premiere of her new movie, "Disney's Herbie: Fully Loaded".

/24-7PressRelease/ - Nashville, TN, June 23, 2005 - "Classy Correspondence with a Fashionable Flair" is the tagline for Hi-Heeled Designs, Amanda Stribling and Julie Hacker's fabulous stationery company. That that is just what was extended to Lindsay Lohan and her celebrity friends.

Following the celeb-soaked premiere of her new movie "Herbie: Fully Loaded", Lindsay Lohan celebrated her 19th birthday in style at the chic Club Basque in Hollywood. Guests at the soiree included Paris Hilton, Nicole Richie, Jared Leto, Jake Gyllenhaal, and Kirsten Dunst.

Lindsay and friends were treated to goodie bags featuring many of Hi-Heeled Designs most popular fashionable note cards. The cards were individually packaged and were a huge success with attendees. The Birthday Girl herself received a special gift: personalized stationery with the popular "Shoe Fetish" design packaged in a beautiful red organza bag.

The Lindsay Lohan goodie bags follow an extremely successful year for Hi-Heeled Designs. The company provides fashionable and chic note cards, stationery and invitations to many high-end gift stores and boutiques across the country. "Our primary focus is to provide fun cards with our fabulous flair. We were thrilled to be asked to do this high-profile event." Co-owner Amanda Stribling said.
