Attention all non-profits! LogoBee announces third Logo Design Makeover Giveaway

LogoBee is having its third annual logo design Makeover Giveaway. This is where non-profit organizations submit their information to LogoBee and a group of them will be selected to receive a logo and stationery design package donated by logoBee.

/24-7PressRelease/ - MONTREAL, QC, CANADA, November 08, 2007 - LogoBee.com, one of the internet's most respected online graphic design firms, is happy to announce another Logo Design Makeover Giveaway this year. For the event, LogoBee donates its professional logo design services to select non-profit and charity organizations that need a fresh or new logo!

Most non-profit groups do not have the time or graphic design expertise to deal with this important aspect of marketing on their own. LogoBee offering their services free of charge presents these organizations with a fantastic opportunity!

Due to the overwhelming response in past Makeover Giveaways, LogoBee has donated its graphic design services to 25 non-profit organizations; 15 of these were chosen in the 2006 event. Last year the organizations that were selected included PEPY Ride, Florida Atlantic Research & Development Association, MEDICO, International Primate Protection League, Voluntary Committee of Lawyers and Women Helping Women. This year LogoBee will again be donating up to ten logo design packages, valued at $425 each. These packages include business card and stationery layouts that incorporate the new logo.
