GoCeilingMedallion.com Rebuilds Website Offering New Products, New Shipping Prices and More Payment Options

GoCeilingMedallion.com is in the process of rebuilding their website. The new website will feature a larger inventory of products with the addition of more manufacturers, payment options not previously offered, a simpler shipping program and new search features.

/24-7PressRelease/ - MESQUITE, NV, November 11, 2007 -- GoCeilingMedallion.com is in the process of rebuilding their website. "Although the site is not completely finished, we are allowing our customers complete access to it, because even in its unfinished state, it offers so many more products and advantages than our old website," states product manager Bob Tomaskovic. The new website will feature a larger inventory of products with the addition of more manufacturers, payment options not previously offered, a simpler shipping program and new search features.

Over 1000 new products have been added to GoCeilingMedallion.com, many of them new ceiling medallions. Once the site is complete, GoCeilingMedallion.com anticipates a catalog of well over 3000 products. "We now offer the largest selection of ceiling medallions available for purchase on the Internet," reports GoCeilingMedallion.com's product manager.

GoCeilingMedallion.com will offer full product lines available from several manufacturers, including new products that are not in the catalogs yet. "We're especially happy with the new line of 45 to 60 inch polyurethane ceiling medallions" continues Bob Tomaskovic, product manager. Other products to be offered will include: accents and inlays, and stair brackets in addition to the 45 to 60 inch ceiling medallions.

GoCeilingMedallion.com will also offer products from Medallion Factory and Chemcrest. Entire manufacturer catalogs and products from previous manufacturers such as Architectural Ornament, Century Architectural Specialties and Superior Building Supplies will also continue to be featured.

GoCeilingMedallion.com will be offering more ways to pay for products. In addition to accepting MasterCard and Visa, GoCeilingMedallion.com will now add an option to pay with American Express and will be adding Google checkout in the near future.

"We listened to what our customers have been telling us and one of the biggest problems was with shipping. Most of the programs we looked at overcharged customers on shipments of multiple products. Rather than working with all kinds of complicated methods, we decided to stick with basic flat rate shipping. No orders in the continental United States will ever cost more than $85 to ship. And orders over $2500 will ship for free. We've built in rewards for our customers," states CEO and President Pat Tomaskovic.

Finally, GoCeilingMedallion.com's new site will offer a search feature that will allow customers to locate products on the site's web pages using a variety of search factors. Customers will be able to use the name, size, manufacturer, and even part number, if they know it, to locate products. "Our new shopping cart with Network Solutions supports our larger catalog. We have found them to be a more robust solution to improve the shopping experience for our customers. Overall, we are just extremely excited with the changes taking place," continues Pat Tomaskovic.
