

Press Release Contact Information:

Matthew Grant
ArtisticPostage.com
Marketing
E-Mail: Email us Here
Website: Visit Our Website

TDSwhite Creates New Holiday Stamps And Christmas Stamps

ArtisticPostage.com releases its custom holiday stamp collection by designer TDSwhite in plenty of time for Christmas postage stamp buyers to get free shipping on their custom stamps.

/24-7PressRelease/ - November 18, 2007 - Every year, holiday card senders make their annual trek to the post office to see what the USPS is offering that year in Christmas stamps. Postal customers then hope that their local branch has a design they like in stock.

Consumers now have more choices than ever before when it comes to making their seasonal greeting card envelopes truly unique. ArtisticPostage.com introduces a new holiday stamp tradition this year - using stamps with photographs and designs created by TDSwhite and customized with the purchaser's own holiday greeting (if they prefer). Part of this new holiday tradition includes getting their stamps delivered right to their doors.

Of all the stamps he's made for the holiday season this year, one has already distinguished itself in an interesting way. The Holiday Wreath Stamp, which features a snow-covered real pine wreath with a traditional red bow started selling in August this year to super-efficient holiday card senders. Perhaps the fact that the wreath was photographed during a snowstorm and snowflakes are visible in the picture gave the shoppers a dash of holiday magic to help them make it through the hot summer weather.

Other stamps in the new seasonal set include candy cane colored monograms, Christmas tree decorations, various snowflake patterns, and many more.

Creator TDSwhite appreciates all the positive comments that are generated by his work. Praise for his Christmas and holiday designs include: "Love your gallery. The celebration candles give such a warm, homey feeling," "Your new Christmas collection is beautiful." A telling comment on his overall work said, "An abundance of beauty and creativity fills your gallery. A real joy to browse such stunning artwork."

For more information and to view Christmas postage and holiday postage choices available, visit the the Holiday Stamps & Christmas Stamps page at ArtisticPostage.com.

www.ArtisticPostage.com - A Company To Stick With

Matthew W. Grant
401-527-8366
Info@ArtisticPostage.com

In addition to holiday collections, ArtisticPostage.com showcases an assortment of TDSwhite's exclusive photo stamps and computer designs for many occasions including weddings, birth announcements, and thank you acknowledgements.