Dynamsoft Corporation Joins Microsoft Visual Studio Industry Partner (VSIP) Program to Support Visual Studio with SourceAnywhere Products

Seamless Support for Visual Studio Brings Convenience and Efficiency

/24-7PressRelease/ - VANCOUVER, BC, CANADA, November 30, 2007 - Dynamsoft Corporation, today announced they are members of Microsoft Corp.'s Visual Studio Industry Partner (VSIP) program. Dynamsoft's goal is to align SourceAnywhere for VSS, SourceAnywhere Standalone, and SourceAnywhere Hosted more closely with Microsoft Visual Studio 6.0 and above.

Offering support for Visual Studio with the SourceAnywhere product line will enable customers to use version control tools in conjunction with development tools for increased efficiency and convenience.

With more than 200 partners, the VSIP program provides technical and marketing support to partners who offer support for Visual Studio. "Microsoft is pleased to have Dynamsoft Corporation join the VSIP program and bring another level of value with its version control technology," said Joe Marini, director of the Visual Studio Industry Partner program, Microsoft Corp. "The SourceAnywhere product line for Visual Studio will help improve development time and accelerate time to market for remote development teams."

Dynamsoft immerses itself in Microsoft technology through ISV programs such as the Early Adopter Program for Visual Studio 2008, Windows Server 2008 and SQL Server 2008. Additionally, Dynamsoft recently announced it has achieved Microsoft Gold Certified Partner status. "Dynamsoft is committed to work with the latest Microsoft technology and to offer support with the SourceAnywhere product line, providing users with enhanced functionality and increased efficiency," said Amy Gu, vice president, Dynamsoft. "In addition, the program provides Dynamsoft with numerous resources offering better insight into Visual Studio. Ultimately, customers benefit from improved integration with Visual Studio."

Dynamsoft understands what it takes to succeed in today's challenging technological business environment. With industry experience, skill and proven software solutions, Dynamsoft offers its customers great value when productivity, performance and rapid time to market are critical for success. Dynamsoft is continuously evolving its software products to serve the needs of its valued customers.

SourceAnywhere is a trademark of Dynamsoft in Canada and other countries. All other trade names and trademarks are the property of their respective owners.
