Mygreatworld Launches Serbia-Portal For All Amateur,Pro Photographers And Travelers

MyGreatWorld.com has opened Serbia for the spot-related database-project to the public and users find a lean and simple framework to enrich with their own photos, recommendations and opinions.

/24-7PressRelease/ - HAAN, GERMANY, December 19, 2007 -- Whatever the reason for a visit to Serbia, photos & information from residents and those who know the place are always welcome, both, to make the best out of a trip and not to miss the secret beauties this country holds: What's Worth Visiting in Belgrad? Where to stay in Kosovo? What to do in Novi Sad? What to avoid in Vojvodina? Users may depict their recommendations on www.MyGreatSerbia.com. For tourists. For residents. For friends. Worldwide.

Is there an architectural must-see in a town? Which hotel is it advisable to stay in? What's a commendable cafe, a museum worth seeing or a beautiful landscape in a spot? Have you been to Priština - and was it really WORTH the trip? Users are invited to give a helping hand and insider-guide to future visitors - and maybe even an eye-opener to residents living nearby.

The photos might also and for example depict details of a (not) recommendable show, a folkloristic event, an interesting building or even 'just' the own road for those fortunates living in Serbia.

MyGreatWorld is a young project and, naturally, there is a lot of space yet to be filled! This also means, everyone is invited to be among the first to add a new spot in Serbia and to become a pioneer to present the flair of a place to the world, the ambassador for his/her town, landscape or favorite point of interest.

As all the pages of MyGreatWorld, www.MyGreatSerbia.com lives from the users' engagement and from the belief that on an international level there are no 'boring' or unspectacular photos: The world in all its facets is very well worth seeing and what's 'interesting' is in the eye of the beholder...

Descriptions are fine.
But pictures are better!
And at MyGreatWorld.com users might use the combination of both.

About the MyGreat GbR:

When in August 2006 Marco Stuewe and Thorsten Scherff called MyGreat into life their aim was to establish an open and non-commercial platform for every user to share his/her impressions of any place on earth. They wanted to create a database for all the international main destinations which would allow for a simple and fast access both to pictures of a place or landscape and to user-comments on the respective location.

In the course of planning this project, however, they soon had to discover that there were far more spectacular places in the world than they had dared to imagine - ... and that some other fields of interest would round up their database-project nicely. Within a time span of just a few days more than 150 Internet-domains were thought of and registered and are by now constantly and freely offered to the community for the benefit of everyone.
