Up And Coming Singing Artist Kelly-Lynn - The Antidote To Todays Pop Stars Gone Wild

In a time when todays young stars have tarnished their clean image and careers with choices that have lead to arrests and stints at rehab, in comes Kelly-Lynn, a rare find in todays clutter of "pop stars gone wild"

/24-7PressRelease/ - LOS ANGELES, CA, January 10, 2008 - In a time when todays young stars have tarnished their clean image and careers with choices that have lead to arrests and stints at rehab, in comes Kelly-Lynn, a rare find in todays clutter of "pop stars gone wild", and an advocate of clean music who is against all that is raving havoc on todays young hollywood scene like teen alcohol use, sex outside of marriage, drug use and violence.

Of course, drugs and alcohol abuse among young hollywood is nothing new to the media or its audience, however, it appears to have become more publicly accepted to wind up with a mug shot these days. Sometimes you have to go against the grain and not simply follow others who have taken the wrong path in life, and Kelly-Lynn just might very well be exactly what the music industry needs more of today. A real honest to goodness positive role model. Move over Britney Spears, Amy Winehouse and Lindsey Lohan.

Amazing audiences since the tender age of twelve with her angelic voice that is so reminiscent of when music was pure and had a positive message.

Kelly believes that "one should never compromise their own integrity to get ahead in life", and knows that a strong faith and being true to yourself is key to staying on the straight and narrow. Someone any parent would be proud of as well as have their own children look up to.

Not one to wait for opportunities to come falling at her feet, Kelly-Lynn got her start by booking her own concerts in local churches and community events to get her foot in the door.

Her influences are not typical of young women her age, with much respect and admiration for such artists as Barry Manilow, Crystal Lewis, and Karen Carpenter who was a top vocalist in the seventies.

She looks up to such stars as Mandy Moore as a "positive role model" and strives to be that herself for young girls all over the world, and accepts the challenge to have a positive impact in an industry that is currently in desperate need of one. Music anyone can appreciate and feel good about.

A combination of raw talent, good looks, natural charisma and a class act all the way. Kelly-Lynn is sure to grab Hollywoods attention.

Recently recording songs with Walt Disney records, its no secret that she is singing with love as her message and faith in her heart, Kelly-Lynn will inspire everyone with her positive and up-beat approach to pop music.

Many would agree who have crossed paths with her or have seen Kelly perform live that she is simply "a breath of fresh air in todays music industry", and her growing fan appeal is proof that there is a real need for her there.

"Kelly-Lynn's fresh and natural approach is music to my ears and man can she sing"
--says Dan Norris, Radio DJ/on-air personality from WA1A 107.1FM

Already adding some impressive names to her resume she has worked with some of the finest musicians from around the world, including Louise Ryan (Charlotte Church's vocal coach), UK composer Paul Weston, guitarist Nigel Jenkins (Gerry Rafferty and Cliff Richard), Ron Dante (Archie's and Barry Manilow), and Ted Perlman (Whitney Houston, Burt Bacharach and Bob Dylan) to name a few.
