VideosForCoaches.com and Marty Schupak announce the release of two new sports instructional videos titles plus announce plans for future releases in 2008.

VideosForCoaches.com a 8 year old company started by CEO Marty Schupak have been a leader in producing sports instructional videos.

/24-7PressRelease/ - VALLEY COTTAGE, NY, January 26, 2008 - The Youth Sports Club and President Marty Schupak have announced the release of their latest baseball video "Fielding Drills & Techniques". Schupak said, " This video is a culmination of some of the best fielding drills I have seen in my 20 year coaching career in youth sports. The main goal in youth baseball is to put young players in the best position to be successful. The Fielding Drills & Techniques video shows the youth coach and parent through a progression of drills that instill confidence and muscle memory with regard to the actual skill in the youth baseball player how the young baseball player will be successful."

In a further development, Schupak announced that the Youth Sports Club also released their latest soccer title, "Advanced Soccer Drills". Schupak said, " Soccer is still growing at an incredible pace with leagues being run almost all year round. We are happy to keep adding to our soccer video library and will continue looking into the best topics that will help youth soccer teams and school soccer teams." The Youth Sports Club is an Internet and Catalog Company that produces and distributes sports instructional videos.

They presently have 21 video titles in their extensive video library and will be adding five new titles in 2008.
