February 2008 ranking of top Search Engine Friendly Web Development firms published by topseos.com www.topseos.com

/24-7PressRelease/ - PLYMOUTH, IN, February 05, 2008 - topseos.com has always succeeded in maintaining its position as the most reliable hub for internet marketing related information and a platform where leading internet marketing vendors can showcase their products and services.

The kind and amount of information that is present on the Internet is phenomenal and this means that everyone online is trying to make themselves as visible as possible. And that, most definitely, is not an easy task but this is where Search Engine Friendly Web Development comes into play. Through Search Engine Friendly Web Development search engines are able to find websites with ease. The core idea here is to utilize the correct SEO codes in the right ways to attract search engines.

All the various elements that make up a good website have to work together harmoniously for best results. Even seemingly unimportant aspects, like the visitor's internet connection, can determine the success of your website. There is a lot more to web development than technicalities and the development stage is an important step in a website's lifecycle.

The ranking by topseos.com takes into consideration all the above factors and a thorough evaluation process precedes the naming of the finalists. Here are the top 5 Search Engine Friendly Web Development firms for February 2008:

1. Avenue A Razorfish - Georgia
2. RustyBrick Inc. - New York
3. 2advanced.com - California
4. Red Clay Interactive - Georgia
5. DeepBlue - Georgia

The selection of the top 5 Search Engine Friendly Web Development firms is based on the following criteria:

- Competitive advantage
- Superior services and pricing
- Functional design
- Customer and technical support
- Response to client problems
- Information architecture
- Innovations that set it apart from the competition
- Usability
- Reliability
