Business Aviator Inventory Software offers integration with osCommerce for ideal end-to-end solution

Integration provides Business Aviator Inventory users the ability to sell online using an osCommerce web store while managing items, inventory, sales, purchasing and multiple locations from within the Business Aviator Inventory Software.

/24-7PressRelease/ - WIXOM, MI, February 13, 2008 -- To compliment the recent release of Business Aviator(R) Inventory Free Edition software, Mark Miarecki Computing, Inc. is extending the Business Aviator software suite by providing first-class web store integration with osCommerce, which is one of the most popular open source web store platforms. This highly requested integration provides Business Aviator Inventory Free Edition software users with an additional added-value incentive to sign-up for a membership.

"We strongly believe that integration is crucial to success with inventory software! In-fact, that's why we provide integrations with accounting systems and are working on additional web integrations to seamlessly integrate multiple facets of every-day businesses that have inventory management needs." said Mark Miarecki, president and CEO, Mark Miarecki Computing, Inc. "In response to consumer interest, we're offering the means to sell products from Business Aviator online, and we're doing-so with a complimentary and free open-source platform so our users can take advantage of the wide variety of customization and support available." A Business Aviator Membership in particular is a great opportunity for businesses to get access to these additional integrations as they become available.

The web store integration provides the means to synchronize items, categories, inventory quantities and other information directly to the osCommerce web store, and orders can be downloaded seamlessly into Business Aviator for invoicing - automatically reducing inventory and reflecting those changes in the web store.

With the integration of accounting systems like QuickBooks(R) , which is already available to members, Business Aviator now provides a true end-to-end solution, from the web store front end to the back-end accounting. This technology provides a significant business advantage to Business Aviator users.
