Andrew, Director of the Go Wild Gardening company spoke about his experience with the BBC production team. "It was great fun and such a thrill to be involved with such a prestigious show. At Go Wild Gardening, we are passionate about enhancing the environment and encouraging wildlife to thrive where possible, values that are shared by the programme's producers and viewers."

"We've been active in and Oxfordshire for over ten years now," Andrew continues. "We produce hand drawn and coloured garden plans for formal gardens, child friendly gardens, wild gardens and low maintenance gardens, and then build and maintain gardens in an environmentally friendly manner in Oxford and Oxfordshire. Being involved with BBC Gardener's World was a high point but there are many more to come for us I'm sure!"
