Fresh and Contemporary - The Hot New Trends and Cool Tips for Window Treatments in 2008

DrapeStyle.com announced the hot new trends in drapes and curtains for 2008 are a departure from the "traditional" looks that dominated 2007, with an emphasis on bold fabrics, some wild designs (zebra stripes!) - and colors focusing on consumers' expressive personal style and individuality.

Newport Beach, California - DrapeStyle, a leading manufacturer of luxury drapes in America, announced today the trends that will dominate window treatments and curtains for spring and summer 2008. The new trends are a departure from the more traditional looks that dominated 2007, with an emphasis on bold fabrics and colors focusing on expressive personal style and individuality.

Hot new trends in window treatments include:

- The use of grommets for a clean, contemporary look in metallic.
- Solid fabrics in pewter, platinum, and gold.
- Urban design influence with the use of solid fabrics in grays and warm bronze.
- Earthy natural fabrics in wood tones and stone colors.
- Animal prints are hot! Especially zebra.
- The "Boutique Hotel Room" look is in high demand - this is achieved by adding blackout lining to block nearly 100% of the light - making a room dark regardless of time of day and greatly reduces energy costs by adding significant insulating value.
- The top interior designers are mounting drapery hardware close to the ceiling or crown to give the appearance and feel of more height.
- Use of decorative fabric for edge-banding or trim for a custom look will also be popular. This bottom bordered or banded drapery allows incorporation of up to three colors - and is easier to coordinate with a room's decor.
