Leading Online Color Copy Giant Extends Services to Canada, Mexico

Company wants to provide neighboring nations with same great value as Americans

/24-7PressRelease/ - HUDSON, WI, March 20, 2008 -- Docucopies.com, the leading provider of low-cost, high-quality color copies, has extended their services. They now offer the same value on discount color copies to their neighbors in Mexico and Canada.

This is in addition to the services already extended to United States territories such as Puerto Rico.

"We're competing in an increasingly global marketplace," says marketing director Jeff Corbo. "So we're pleased that we can finally give the same great services to our neighbors to the north and south as we give to our fellow Americans."

In addition to standard black and white and color copies, Mexican and Canadian citizens will now be able to order booklets, spiral or comb-bound books and manuals, and the myriad other services provided by Docucopies.com.

About Docucopies.com
