/24-7PressRelease/ - LONDON, UK, March 21, 2008 - gambling.com Magazine has released its 2nd anniversary issue, jam packed with its usual array of gambling strategy articles and cool reviews for the high rolling gambler. But this month, adorning the cover, is a true icon of the sporting world and arguably the most recognisable face in snooker. Jimmy White MBE invited gambling.com down to his new training camp in the marvellous surrounds of the Royal Surrey Poker and Snooker Club to chat about his love of life at the snooker and poker tables.

Continuing on the snooker theme, gambling.com also got the chance to speak to current World Champion John Higgins MBE about retaining his title, becoming a father for the third time and finding his form at the poker table.

gambling.com also talks to former MIT number cruncher and protagonist of the best selling book, Bringing Down the House, Jeff Ma ahead of the release the film 21. The film stars Kevin Spacey, Laurence Fishburne and Kate Bosworth and follows the story of the MIT blackjack team as they weave their mathematical magic on the casinos of Las Vegas.

Also in this issue are previews of the 2008 John Smith's Grand National, the 888.com World Snooker Championships, and a look back at the dramatic Super Bowl XLII and a look behind the scenes of the 21st century casino.

Should that still leave you hungry for more then fear not because also included is a report on the Poker Stars EPT Copenhagen as well as in-depth analysis on the games of blackjack and British Kalooki.
