Learn "The Secrets" that the banks do not want you to know about bankruptcy.

Bankruptcy attorney, Jamie Ryke, will be on the air, live, answering listener's bankruptcy questions as they call into radio station 1200 AM WCHB.

Second Start P.L.L.C. /-Southfield, MI, March 19, 2008- Monday, March 31, 2008, at 8:00 AM, Bankruptcy attorney, Jamie Ryke, will be on the air, live, answering listener's bankruptcy questions as they call into radio station 1200 AM WCHB. The station's segment is called Monday Morning Life Solution. Mr. Ryke is co-founder, along with Andrew Thav, of Second Start; a law firm whose headquarters are located in Michigan. Second Start has additional locations nationwide all specializing in debt elimination plans.

As we all know, these are hard times for everyone, and there are many misconceptions regarding bankruptcy that are hurting individual situations rather than helping them. Jamie Ryke intends to clear up all those misconceptions in hopes of helping others reach a financial turning point in their lives. No matter what your situation, or how you ended up there, Mr. Ryke wants to assist you in discovering the solutions and steps toward a happier financial future. Monday morning is an opportunity to call in (or tune in) and hear the truth about bankruptcy from an knowledgeable source. Mr. Ryke will discuss "The Secrets" to bankruptcy that the banks do not want you to know. The format will include:

- Bankruptcy actually improves your credit over time.
- Banks want you to receive credit counseling so that they make more money.
- For most people, credit counseling is a dead end rather than a solution.
- Bankruptcy is a solid and secure answer to your financial hardships.
- People who file bankruptcy are happier and less stressed about finances.

Second Start P.L.L.C.—and its highly capable and well trained staff—is actively trying to change the overall assumptions regarding bankruptcy, and assist those in need of financial rescuing. Jamie Ryke and his team are a caring and personable crew trying to reach out to those feeling the effects of the nation's debilitating economy.
