New Video Makes Proves That Getting Preventative Disease Vaccinations Can Increase Chances Of Getting Sick

The inventors of vaccines, such as the flu vaccination, have used potentially harmful ingredients that not even the physicians who administer the shots will allow their children to take

/24-7PressRelease/ - WASHINGTON, DC, March 28, 2008 -- Parents who get flu shot vaccinations every year and still get the flu can find dozens of reasons why in the short video "The Truth About Vaccinations" found on www.PhonOnline.com.

Research shows that many dangerous and potentially deadly chemicals and toxins have been found within the ingredients of every major disease preventative vaccination in America. Chemicals such as acetone (solvent, polish remover), borax (ant killer) and antifreeze have been found as active ingredients. Animal organ tissue, contaminant animal viruses and aborted human fetus cells, which are also active ingredients, have been known to become toxic when mixed with human blood. If that wasn't disturbing enough, contaminant animal viruses are a leading cause of cancer in the human body.

So, with these and many more deadly ingredients used to make a human vaccination, why hasn't the government issued a recall on the product?

The producers of the video makes claims of a top secret government conspiracy that initiates false pandemics to create fear in the public, which leads to billions of dollars in profits for the medical/industrial complex from drugs used for treatment, hospitalizations, physician costs, laboratory costs, and medical personnel to enforce quarantines.
