Shelving, Inc. Announces A Brand New Site

The brand new Shelving, Inc. website will be fresh and easy to navigate

/24-7PressRelease/ - AUBURN HILLS, MI, March 28, 2008 - In April 2008, Shelving, Inc. will launch their new website, Shelving.com, to increase customer satisfaction. Shelving.com will offer easy-to-find categories, as well as colorful and bold pictures to help with website navigation.

It will now be easy to choose the type of storage and organizational products for specific business and factory needs. Category titles will be clear, and subcategories will direct customers to the specific products that will help them get organized. Plus, product information will be readily available to help determine the type of shelving for each business need.

Shelving, Inc. will continue to offer the lowest prices on all products, and an easier way to find and order those products from the website. Visit www.shelving.com today to view shelving and organizational products, and let them help with all business, industrial or commercial, and home storage solutions.

About Shelving, Inc. & The Shelving Store

For nearly 50 years, the experts at Shelving, Inc. have helped business and industry bring order to the messiness of the workplace, streamlining storage procedures and organizing commercial and public spaces. Shelving, Inc. has served the business community in the Detroit metropolitan area since 1960. Beginning in 1996, it began serving customers nationwide when the company launched its first cyberstore at www.shelving.com. Increasingly, these customers requested products for their homes. The owners of Shelving, Inc. decided to launch their second cyberstore and first residential showroom. At www.theshelvingstore.com and a showroom in Madison Heights, Michigan, they now bring their organizational expertise to any storage space in your home. Shelving, Inc. and The Shelving Store have two distribution centers that ship products globally.

The Shelving Store provides wire shelving a wide variety of shelving needs for homes, condos, dorms, offices and businesses including lockers, cabinets, storage containers, bins and pallet racking. Inexpensive shelf systems and storage solutions.
