Bikers Home On The Web

There is a brand new web site and folks over at www.reviewsite.us are just all over this new biker's web site. They got to interview the Founder and CEO of Bikerswin.com, John Herring.

/24-7PressRelease/ - LITTLETON, CO, April 08, 2008 - Mr. Herring has designed a web site just for the motorcycle enthusiast; his approach is so different that it sets his web site far above the others. Mr. Herring says that bikers are a great group of people, who are always eager to step forward to help others in need. Fund-raising charity rides are quite common events all over the nation, and are lots of fun.

Their site www.bikerswin.com offers all the things that a normal social networking site has to offer - your own home page, live chat rooms, Blogging, and much more. There is no charge to join his site - it's all 100% free. They will not even charge you a fee to sell something in the classified ads. Now most sites do charge you a fee to do that. Mr. Herring says this site is for its members and that he is in contact with all the members. If the members want something to work a different way, all it takes is one email and he will take care of it. Let's see MySpace do that.

There are a great number of social networking sites on the internet, but very few are designed especially for the biker. Bikerswin is written with the motorcycle enthusiast in mind, and unlike other sites, Bikerswin is open to all bikers. Whether you have a Honda, BMW, Harley, or Yamaha, this biker's web site has a friendly; "down-home" feel to it that makes its members feel like part of a big family.

Bikerswin has been reviewed by many leaders in the motorcycle community and they feel that www.bikerswin.com has great potential, and is going to become the biggest biker web site on the internet.

In conclusion, we will be watching this site very closely to see the outcome. It is hard to remember when there was so much excitement over a new web site. So keep an eye on this one folks - we will be.

So if motorcycles are your thing, be sure to check this site out. www.bikerswin.com
