CRS Aerospace Signs Contract for Services in Mexico with The Offshore Group

Phoenix, Arizona aerospace manufacturer expands in Mexico.

/24-7PressRelease/ - TUCSON, AZ, April 08, 2008 - CRS Aerospace has announced plans to expand its manufacturing facility in Sonora, Mexico. The Empalme operation will service aerospace customers by providing them with anodizing, chemfilm, cleaning, passivate, heat treat, non destructive testing, and other key support services.

CRS has recently signed a 4 year agreement with The Offshore Group for the provision of outsourced manufacturing support, or "shelter" services, as well as for the lease of 24,000 square feet of industrial space at the Bellavista Industrial Park. CRS executives expect to employ approximately 100 workers the project's maturity.

"According to John Mohnach, company president, "CRS recently purchased the assets of ChemResearch in Sonora and is dedicated to bringing a first class support infrastructure to the area. With our strong team and experience in developing companies in the aerospace industry we are excited about accomplishing this goal".
