/24-7PressRelease/ - BIRMINGHAM, UK, April 11, 2008 - BuytheMap.com the webiste that proved hugely successful in 2006/7 selling countries to users has started investing in new electronic property - domain names. Frenchie chief Domaineer and owner of BuytheMap.com is seeking to educate people about the success of domaineering.

Each week Frenchie is keeping a blog of domain name thoughts, ideas, successes and tools. The site has recently added a forum to discuss names with people new to the industry and now hosts some 40 sites all set out to make money!

Frenchie the sites owner said 'with the sale of pizza.com for $2.6million dollars recently hitting the news people are realising that there is money to be made in domain names - as I learn I want people to be able to learn with me'.

So far through adsense advertising and sales Frenchie is making a tide profit, but this is all used to experiment in new ideas, and avenues. As domain names bring in revenue, as wel as increasing in value they are seen as the property of the future.

Feel free to come along to the site and learn how you too can make money while you sleep through domaineering!
