Heavy Equipment Parts Auction Swells To Thousands of Offerings

The industrial auction-based Web site and business-to-business forum for manufacturing and construction professionals IndustrialSAVER, has grown to thousands of offerings for heavy machinery parts, attachments and accessories

/24-7PressRelease/ - BOSTON, MA, April 12, 2008 - IndustrialSAVER, an international B2B auction and industrial supply marketplace, announced today its online marketplace to buy and sell heavy equipment parts and attachments at <http://www.industrialsaver.com/stores/mro/Industrial-Supply-MRO/Professional-Tools> has nearly doubled its offerings.

According to Craig McMillen, a company spokesman, the site includes offerings for an extensive range of construction equipment and heavy machinery parts, attachments and accessories. Including but not limited to new, used and rebuilt engines, transmissions and drive components, forklift seats, tires and wheels, operator controls, fork extensions, cylinders, valves, pumps, differentials, torque converters, timing belts and chains, crawler tracks, wheel loader buckets and teeth, lubricants and other heavy equipment attachments, parts and accessories.

McMillen said both domestic and international buyers and sellers of additional heavy equipment parts and allied products can post and explore offers on IndustrialSAVER's new B2B classifieds section at <http://www.IndustrialSAVER.com/classifieds/>. Companies worldwide are able to utilize the site to connect directly with others in the market to buy and/or sell new and pre-owned heavy machinery parts and attachments for many top brands such as Caterpillar , John Deere , Komatsu , Hitachi , Case , Bobcat and others.

"Sometimes it's not easy to find a suitable supplier of construction equipment parts or attachments for the heavy industry and that's why we created the industrial classifieds marketplace to complement our heavy machinery auction," says the Business Director and VP of IndustrialSAVER.com. He added, "Whether you need an attachment for your dozer, crane, excavator or other construction equipment parts, you'll find a variety of offerings to select from in the auction as well as our marketplace."

Previously, IndustrialSAVER launched the latest edition of its Industrial Auction Directory at http://www.IndustrialSaver.com/auction\_directory.html. According to Matello, the publication is designed to further help companies use on-line auctions to buy and sell all kinds of industrial and construction products. "Although we believe IndustrialSAVER provides a number of solutions for industry professionals, at the same time our Industrial Auction Directory further helps them connect with the people and products they need," says Matello.
