Oops Home Loans Saves Home from Eviction

Oops Home Loans is an Australian based lending specialist that specializes in helping people with bad credit get home loans.

/24-7PressRelease/ - ST. HELENS, UK, April 13, 2008 - Oops Home Loans has helped many people in emergency situations. For instance, (March 27, 2008) there was one situation with a family about to be evicted from their home. The father, let's call him "John" was a self-employed electrician, and because several of his clients did not pay him, he got behind on the mortgage. He also defaulted on his personal loan, as well as other defaults on his credit cards. The sheriff was going to evict him in 5 days unless he was able to secure a loan to clear all of his debt. After posting an enquiry through Oops Home Loans, they called him back immediately and got started on his loan application and approval. They weren't able to obtain the loan in the five day period, but John was able to get the approval and were able to buy some time to save his home. He now works as a school teacher and earning excellent money, so he won't have any issues making payments on the loan. After the three-year term he will be back to paying a standard interest rate.

The benefits of working with Oops Home Loans for your loan needs are that the interest rate decreases each year and the loan is spread out over a three-year period. Towards the end of the three-year term, the interest rate is down to the current variable rate of a traditional good credit loan. Provided the client makes the payments on time.

In an emergency, when time is of the essence and you have bad credit and need a loan, Oops Home Loans is the first and only place you need to look to satisfy your needs. The company will work quickly to get your loan approved and help prevent you from losing your home because of bad credit. Bad credit doesn't stand in the way of loans when working with Oops Home Loans.

This company prides themselves on obtaining quick loans for people in emergencies. These loans can be used by people in all walks of life, from those that have just mismanaged their debt and want to get a better grip on their finances to those that are self-employed and can't produce the documents traditional banks and lenders require in order to secure a loan.

When a prospective client approaches Oops Home Loans, they can be sure to get personal attention. As well as rest easy knowing that their enquiries about a loan and getting it approved is paramount to the company. The company will work quickly to get the loan approved so that the clients can avoid eviction from their home in an emergency situation.

If you have bad credit, steer clear of traditional loan venues and brokers. Many of these loan brokers have no idea about working with people who have bad credit. People like "John" is better with Online Credit Impaired loans providers like Oops Home Loans.
