Christie Jensen Inducted into Cambridge Who's Who Executive, Professional and Entrepreneurial Registry

b> /Cambridge Who's Who/ - Warner Robins, GA, April 19, 2008, Christie L. Jensen, Quality Manager for Terma North America, has been recognized by Cambridge Who's Who for showing dedication, leadership and excellence in all aspects of quality management.

As quality manager, Ms. Jensen's duties include software and hardware quality engineering, process development and implementation and data and configuration management. She stays current with the trends in her profession by reading industry-related publications. One important issue that she faces professionally is quality acceptance of the company's products.

Ms. Jensen holds a Bachelor of Business Administration in Information Systems from Georgia College and State University. She is a member of the Association of Old Crows. She hopes to continue within the same company and would like to build a large quality section in the future.

Terma North America manufactures aerostructures for aircraft, airborne systems, including self-protection systems such as radar and missile warning systems, audio systems solutions, reconnaissance systems for fighter aircraft, advanced electronic warfare control systems and chaff and flare dispensing systems.
