

Press Release Contact Information:

Thomas Sean
Addiction Institute
Supervisor
1590 NE 162nd Street
North Miami Beach, FL
United States, 33162
Voice: 800-559-9503
E-Mail: Email us Here
Website: Visit Our Website

An Explanative Guide To Addiction Programs Is Released

Addicts who are looking to better themselves will find that getting help can be tough- but a thorough guide to all the addiction programs and treatments has been created for just such addicts.

/24-7PressRelease/ - NORTH MIAMI BEACH, FL, April 21, 2008 - Addicts can attest that getting over an addiction isn't easy- even with the help of hundreds of programs available today. A new resource has compiled all addiction treatment programs currently known into an easy to read format and guide.

Addiction is a human characteristic that is hard to tame. Whether it be drugs, alcohol, or other forms of addiction- there are often too many solutions to pick the right one on the first try. AddictionTreatmentProgram.info seeks to change this by offering a definitive guide to addicts looking for self help.

The guide in question is organized by several subjects. This can be the subject of the substance that is being abused, age specific ranges such as the case of teenagers, the date at which information was made available to the general public, and several other options.

In addition to the organization, the program guide offers a user-intuitive search engine that can help addicts find the necessary information with ease. Compared to other self help websites, this is a great advantage that can cut out hours of searching work.

AddictionTreatmentProgram.info continues to expand on their design, organization, functionality, and user base as time goes on. The free resource to addicts is quickly becoming the leading addiction help resource as a result- something that will only become more apparent with time.

<http://AddictionTreatmentProgram.info> was created in hopes that addicts could have a "go to" resource in which to find new information on addiction programs. It has become an industry leader in the addiction help scene.