Australia's newest education web portal goes live - 2008

Assisting international students find the right educational institution based on their lifestyle requirements

/24-7PressRelease/ - BRISBANE, AUSTRALIA, April 24, 2008 -- Australia's newest education web portal, AdPlusEd launched its web site in January 2008. The next release of web portal scheduled for late AUGUST 2008 aims to create a 'one stop shop' and a 'self drive' experience to international students.

The service delivery of AdPlusEd is carried out solely through the web portal <http://www.adplused.com.au>

At present, AdPlusEd offer services to international students, educational institutions and education affiliates /agents by:

-  Screening international students for educational institution admissions and entry requirements
-  Providing unbiased education advice to students based on individual lifestyle requirements and study objectives, via the guided questionnaire submitted through the web portal
-  Providing comprehensive & end to end student visa support and migration advice by registered AdPlusEd migration professionals
-  Sourcing & Managing education affiliates throughout the world
-  Providing tools and resources to AdPlusEd registered affiliates to speed up application process and service delivery
-  Providing access to an accommodation and employment services notice board to international students through AdPlusEd membership (for release in late 2008)
-  Supplying information to service providers and students via the AdPlusEd Global Distribution System for Education Institutions (GDS to be released mid 2008)
