Ft. Collins Alternative Health and Wellness Clinic Offers Free Wellness Scans for Nutrition Month

A Ft. Collins acupuncturist and alternative health and wellness clinic is helping people who want to get healthy and stay healthy by providing a free wellness scan using the latest biotechnology.

/24-7PressRelease/ - FT. COLLINS, CO, April 24, 2008 - A Ft. Collins acupuncturist and alternative health and wellness clinic is helping people who want to get healthy and stay healthy by providing a free wellness scan using the latest biotechnology.

Jessica Steyn, L.Ac., Dipl. Homeopathy, a local acupuncturist, says a growing number of people are turning to natural health care in an effort to obtain better health and then stay that way through complementary and alternative medicine.

March is a good month to focus on nutrition, so to help members of the public with better health through nutrition, Steyn is offering a free wellness scan (tm) using ZYTO technology.

Steyn, of Nature's Healing Center, is using the newest biotechnology from ZYTO Corp. to make better decisions about the health care needs of patients. There have been well over 150,000 clinical health assessments performed by health care professionals using ZYTO (tm) technology. The accuracy of the results and science that supports it has enabled Steyn to avoid guesswork and trial and error in the process of selecting the best nutritional supplements and other remedies for patients.

"As more and more people experience the accuracy of a health scan and assessment from the ZYTO technology, they are so enthused that they tell everyone they know. This has been one of the primary reasons so many people are trying natural health care," explained Steyn.

The goal of natural health care is to assist the body to heal itself by giving it what it needs to stimulate the body's defense mechanisms and processes. It is based on the belief that the body can heal itself and then stay healthy, if it has what it needs. The ZYTO technology is used to communicate with the body and determine what is needed to bring it into balance.

The human body has an innate ability to heal itself through self-cleansing, self-repair, and therefore self-healing. This process can be achieved by focusing on the immune, hormonal, nervous, and detoxification systems of the body. Once these systems are in balance, restored health is the probability, according to Steyn.

"The body's self-healing ability can be better understood if one takes into account the fact that homeostasis, or biological balance, is the main characteristic of any healthy system," explained Steyn.

Nature's Healing Center is located at 4115 Boardwalk Dr., and appointments can be made by calling 303-688-1402. Additional information is provided on the Internet at <http://www.NaturesHealingCenter.net>
