The New Face of Ask Mars Venus: Redesign of AskMarsVenus.com Offers Comprehensive Support

The expert dating, marriage, and relationship advice of the Ask Mars Venus coaching program has been collected and presented in a clean, professional new Web site launched today at AskMarsVenus.com.

/24-7PressRelease/ - MARINA DEL REY, CA, April 27, 2008 - The expert dating, marriage, and relationship advice of the Ask Mars Venus coaching program has been collected and presented in a clean, professional new Web site launched today at <http://AskMarsVenus.com>.

The unveiling of this new look emphasizes and echoes the way that Ask Mars Venus Coaches present support and solutions to each of their clients: information is offered in a simple and straightforward manner so that any site visitor or client can find what they're looking for exactly when they need it. Part of the identity of the Ask Mars Venus Coaching program is to be that immediate resource that clients can depend on to voice their relationship concerns and get solution-oriented feedback in return.

AskMarsVenus.com is optimized to provide the coaching program with a greater Web presence so that more clients are able to reach out for support when they need it. Melanie Gorman, director of operations for the Mars Venus organization, is ecstatic about the launch of the new site. "The major shifts occurring in our society have put a great strain on personal relationships. It is important to us to present Ask Mars Venus as the invaluable resource that we are in this time of flux," Gorman says. "The new AskMarsVenus.com answers all the questions about what Ask Mars Venus coaching really is, and provides our site visitors with an easy-to-navigate, informative outlet."

Visitors to AskMarsVenus.com will find:

- A detailed explanation about coaching and a listing of concerns that Ask Mars Venus Coaches regularly discuss with clients
- Love advice, articles, relationship quizzes, and an informative free newsletter
- Individual bios for Ask Mars Venus top coaches and opportunities to contact them via email or through an online appointment form
- An extensive resource section for members of the media

"Communication is the most important element in a relationship," Gorman explains. "The redesign of AskMarsVenus.com is our way of communicating our message clearly to our audience: we are only a phone call away and are always here for you."
