RoomPainter.com Announces Support for Google Checkout

RoomPainter.com, the market leader in the interior paint contracting industry, today announced that the RoomPainter.com website now delivers full integration with Google Checkout (<http://checkout.google.com>).

/24-7PressRelease/ - RALEIGH, NC, May 03, 2008 - "Innovation is happening so rapidly in the e-commerce sector, and Google Checkout is another fantastic option for our customers to benefit from these advances," said Jeff Stewart, owner of RoomPainter.com. "By partnering with Google, and endorsing their new Google Checkout offering, RoomPainter.com now offers its customers the convenience of a checkout process designed to make payments and scheduling deposits even faster, while preserving privacy and security."

To further customer satisfaction RoomPainter.com is using Google's XML connectors to link information managed in its e-commerce platform such as checkout and schedule calendar. Google Checkout allows customers to quickly and easily take advantage RoomPainter.com's newest payment options without any additional programming effort.

About RoomPainter.com and Google Checkout

Offended by the high prices most homeowners previously had to pay for their painting needs, RoomPainter.com (www.roompainter.com) was launched several years ago to remedy the problem. Since then, it has grown rapidly to become the area's largest interior painting contractor catering to the vast array of painting needs of homeowners all over the Triangle. RoomPainter.com 's continuing mission is to pair everyday low guaranteed pricing with exceptional interior painting service. Today, RoomPainter.com is the top provider of the best painting service in the market today including the highly popular "Painting $100 Per Room".

Google Checkout offers an easy and trusted checkout option letting shoppers' purchase and track shopping activities from participating online stores with a single Google login. Shoppers create a Google Checkout profile once consisting of contact information, credit card data and shipping details. When shopping on sites offering Google Checkout, the transaction can be completed using only a single username and password. Additionally, Google Checkout provides a means to track all purchases from all Google Checkout-compatible merchants in one spot.
