/24-7PressRelease/ - CARLSBAD, CA, May 05, 2008 - In today's world, today's youth are in more need of motivation, inspiration, and accountability than ever before. Less and less, parents are finding they are able to motivate and hold their teens accountable for stepping up and taking action in staying on track with their goals and desires. Justin Sachs is committed to turn those challenges into achievements.

Justin Sachs was one of five winners of the 2007 Diller Teen Tikkun Olam Awards, a $36,000 award to be used for education or contribution efforts. He has founded the Peak Performance Lifestyles Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to youth leadership and contribution activities, has won the President's Volunteer Service Award 3 years straight, and has been recognized as a Distinguished Finalist in the Prudential Spirit of Community Awards two years in a row. His passion and dedication to serving his community and to inspire the youth of today to be the leaders of tomorrow is an unseen inspiration in youth today. He now wants to give back in a new way. Beginning in January 2008, Justin Sachs founded Justin Sachs International, a company which coaches and mentors high school youth, holding them accountable for their goals, admirations, and guides them to taking their lives to the next level. His long-time history with the Anthony Robbins Companies has helped him learn the fundamental principles of leadership and of personal development with which he guides his clients' everyday. Justin believes there's no challenge too small, and will make every effort to help his clients grow, and develop into responsible adults, committed to serving their communities, and passionately following their dreams. Justin Sachs International will work with students to better their grades, overcome obstacles, increase their time management, develop an inspiring set of goals, and harness entrepreneurial talent. His compassion and dedication will surely develop some of the greatest leaders of both today and tomorrow's worlds.
