Minnesota Realtor Directory Service Switches Locations

Online Realtor directory FindMinnesotaHomes.com moves across the river with partner company.

/24-7PressRelease/ - HUDSON, WI, May 10, 2008 - Minnesota's premiere real estate directory service has switched their base of operations from Stillwater, Minn., to Hudson, Wisc., in a move that allows the company more freedom to grow.

From their new building in St. Croix County, FindMinnesotaHomes.com continues to offer their agent directory listing services to all of the Realtors registered with their partner company, RealEstateHomepages.com. This service is a huge bonus for REHP customers, who get listed as specialists in areas of their choice at no additional cost just for being clients.

Those who log onto FindMinnesotaHomes.com can search any given area for a Realtor who specializes in that region. Visitors can also use the property search function, which searches the property listings of all REHP clients.

Though they no longer work from Minnesota, FindMinnesotaHomes.com is keeping their focus there, and Marketing Director Jeff Corbo assures their clients the change in location will not have an effect on the service they provide.

"It's not like we packed up and moved to Milwaukee," says Corbo. "We literally moved just down the river."

FindMinnesotaHomes.com is a partner of RealEstateHomepages.com, which offers flexible design and hosting packages to real-estate professionals, ranging from basic templates to custom Flash designs. All their sites are fully editable without prior HTML knowledge and can be changed on the spot from any location in the world.
