Boots.com wins yet more exclusive beauty launches

Boots.com is cementing its position as the leading online beauty retailer with two more exclusive beauty launches

/24-7PressRelease/ - May 11, 2008 - Boots.com, the health and beauty online retailer has won exclusive launches for two more high profile beauty products, Olay Regenerist Daily 3 Point Treatment Cream and YSL's new Everlong Mascara. Both will launch in the UK in May and will initially only be available at boots.com.

The new Olay Regenerist Daily 3 Point Treatment Cream aims to give women dramatically younger looking skin, especially around the three key zones of eyes, jawline and neck. This is currently the number one Olay facial moisturiser in the United States, with Olay crediting the success of this cream to its formula, which has its most concentrated-ever amino-peptide formula. In customer research in the United States it has even outperformed famous iconic creams.

With summer approaching, the age-old question comes about for women everywhere - "How can you emphasise your eyes so they still look great on the beach without running the risk of getting 'panda eyes' from your mascara?" To help provide a beauty solution YSL is introducing a revolutionary new mascara; Waterproof Everlong Mascara is perfect for those hot summer days - not only is it waterproof but it also has a unique formula designed to shield lashes from the sun's drying effects. It is also extremely long lasting, so it will last all day and through into the evening. With exceptional lash separation, a nourishing stimulating complex and a double lengthening effect, this YSL mascara is everything a girl needs. It is available in four shades - Ever Black, Ever Brown, Ever Navy and Ever Burgundy.

Celeste Sinclair, Beauty Buyer for boots.com said, "We are really excited to have gained exclusivity for these two new launches. Olay Regenerist Daily 3 Point Treatment Cream is one of the most hotly anticipated anti-ageing creams since No7's Protect & Perfect last year, so much so that we had to set up a waiting list so that women would be the first to know as soon as it was launched. YSL is obviously a highly desirable cosmetic brand with many loyal fans around the UK, and the formulation for Everlong Mascara means it will be the perfect summer beauty accessory. To gain these two high profile exclusive launches demonstrates that boots.com really is a leading beauty retailer, amongst both online stores and on the high street."

These two new exclusives follow hot on the heels of other exclusives earlier in 2008, including the massively successful Tri-Aktiline Instant Deep Wrinkle Filler cream in January and the men's fragrance Boss Pure in March.
