Transaction Management Consultant's Michelle Spalding Chosen

For Her Success In Expanding Business Virtually

/24-7PressRelease/ - ORLANDO, FL, May 13, 2008 - Michelle Spalding, of Transaction Management Consultants -- Nationally renowned real estate closing expert and speaker, has been chosen to share her knowledge and experience in virtual business with the students at The Knowledge Shop. Michelle will be presenting a class titled "Business For The 21st Century" on Tuesday, June 24, 2008 from 7:00 to 10:00 PM. The class is specifically designed to help participants explore the world of virtual outsourcing as a method for growing a business effectively and economically. Attendees will formulate a plan for incorporating virtual outsourcing and be provided resources help them start immediately to create their very own dream team of virtual assistants.

"Michelle's first hand experience managing a team of virtual closing coordinators and her personal use of virtual assistants lead us to select her as an instructor for this course. She has a genuine passion for helping others be successful and an excellent way of conveying the need for systemization in all business, especially small businesses", says Belinda Szymanski owner of The Knowledge Shop.

The Knowledge Shop is Central Florida's premier learning center, bringing local and national experts in a wide variety of subjects to their Casselberry location.

Michelle says, "My mission is to help as many business owners as I can by sharing with them my personal experiences and successes in hiring virtual assistants and virtual contractor employees. I'm very passionate about helping others achieve the level of success they desire and enjoy more free time for personal activities as well. Knowing that traditional hiring methods can be expensive and very limiting, I sought ways to do be different in my company and this has been a great success. I am very honored to be chosen to teach this class.
