/24-7PressRelease/ - CAYUCOS, CA, May 15, 2008 - Dante's Inferno, 1906, San Francisco is the story of a vulnerable, guilt-ridden fireman, Dante Zuchelli, who is driven to suicidal acts of bravery to save a newfound love, the city and face the deepest recesses of a tormented soul.

Dante's Inferno, 1906, San Francisco is a 300 M.P.H. trolley car ride careening through Shangri-La and Sodom and Gomorra as it shakes and sears beyond recognition.

Dante's Inferno, 1906, San Francisco is the complete and spectacular saga of real and fictional citizens. Through their unabashed eyes project a carefree pre-disaster Eden and the merciless life and death struggles through the vicious tremor and fiery holocaust. Tales of these fearless Americans weave in and out of Dante's staggering quest and after four black days, with annihilation at their doorsteps, Dante and the hearty forty-niners unite to courageously suffocate the blaze and launch their rebirth.

Additional fictional and real survivors include:

Nurse Lorna: Dante's new girlfriend hiding 2,800 miles from an arranged marriage.

Jack London and his wife Charmian: They trudge the ruins to report on the tragedy.

Fireman McNutt: Dante's best pal, and the Firemen at Station Number 1.

Robert Ingham: A heroic cop haunted by nightmare omens of the coming firestorm.

Captain Dougherty and Fire Chief Sullivan: Dante's mentors and saviors of the city.

Enrico Caruso: The melodramatic Italian opera star and his bizarre excursion to safety. Bohemian Bailey Millard with his spectacular panoramic views from Russian Hill.

Stephanie, a fresh flower kidnapped by the Pope of the Barbary Coast Jerome Bassity.

Cowboy Buck, Dante's childhood friend who rescues his runaway fianc e Stephanie.

Fredrick Funston, the General who executes marshal law and fights to take over the city.

Mayor Eugene Schmitz, Police Chief Dinan and mob boss Ruff: Pirates of city coffers.

Rudolph Spreckels, about to bring racketeering charges against the corrupt syndicate. Photographer Arnold Genthe: He shoots the charred remains of the city and its people.

John Barrymore, who makes love during the tremor and drinks his way through the fire.
