BluEnt LIVE IN ACTION AT THE AIA 2008 NATIONAL CONVENTION AND DESIGN EXPOSITION

BluEnt seeks to educate and inform the world of architectural design about innovative offshoring solutions at the 2008 AIA exposition - May 15th-17th, 2008 at Booth #23083 at the Boston convention and exhibition center

/24-7PressRelease/ - BOSTON, MA, May 16, 2008 - BluEnt's constant endeavor to create innovative solutions for architects/firms, designers, draftsmen and decorators has led us to the AIA 2008 National Convention and Design Exposition to be held during the 15th - 17th of May, 2008 at the Boston Convention and Exhibition Center. BluEnt seeks to create knowledge sharing processes amongst the leading architects and architectural firms regarding the incorporation of offshoring models within their indigenous industry value chains to derive better results and benefits. Live presentation and informative interaction seek to enlighten architects/architectural firms and designers about contemporary services that can improve their next project.

"Our constant endeavor has been to educate and partner with global clients to help them move away from the traditional view of outsourcing as a non-core functions delegation process," says Sajeel Khanna, Senior Vice President of BluEnt, "Our clients benefit greatly from our modern infrastructure and trained architects. We can offer them architectural design support and documentation services like never before thanks to our innovative offshore solutions".

As industry experts, BluEnt seeks to collaborate with architectural firms from around the world to facilitate knowledge intensive BIM consulting and integration to facilitate a smoother transition within the client companies.

BluEnt will be demonstrating the benefits of their innovative offshore solutions at the AIA 2008 Convention at the Boston Convention and Exhibition Centre at Booth# 23083, 15th - 17th May, 2008.
