Chewuch Inn & Cabins of Winthrop, WA Donates Annually to Methow Conservancy

"Chewuch Inn gives a percent of annual revenue to the Methow Conservancy, a nonprofit organization dedicated to inspiring people to care for the land of the Methow Valley, as a gift from guests."

/24-7PressRelease/ - BEND, OR, May 16, 2008 - Guests staying at the Chewuch Inn & Cabins, <http://www.chewuchinn.com>, in Winthrop, Washington are making a difference. The Chewuch Inn & Cabins supports protection of wildlife habitat and open space in the Methow Valley by donating 1% of their total revenue to the Methow Conservancy.

The Methow Conservancy, <http://www.methowconservancy.org>, is a nonprofit organization formed in 1996 to preserve open space, wildlife habitat and the scenic views of the Methow Valley. To date the Methow Conservancy has assisted landowners in protecting over 5,500 acres and 17 miles of riverfront habitat.

Owner of Chewuch Inn, Dan Kuperberg, stated, "When my wife and I decided to do this, it was with the hope that our guests would feel pride and satisfaction that their stays at the Chewuch Inn helped maintain and improve the Methow Valley."
