Holiday Inn London Kensington Forum Welcomes Guests to De Sunday Curry Lime

Holiday Inn London Kensington Forum, one of the premier hotels in Kensington, offers a unique brunch experience to guests and local residents featuring live entertainment and a fresh, Caribbean-influenced menu.

/24-7PressRelease/ - LONDON, ENGLAND, May 17, 2008 - The fragrant atmospheres and spicy souls of West India and the Caribbean made their way to the royal borough of Kensington as Holiday Inn London Kensington Forum hotel hosted the inaugural De Sunday Curry Lime.

A regular event to be hosted on the last Sunday of every month, De Sunday Curry Lime provides a unique opportunity for Kensington and UK residents, whether guests of the central London hotel or not, to break out of their normal routines for a Sunday brunch like no other. A diverse blend of Caribbean-style curries accented with lime and West Indian spices provide a refreshing change to the traditional bacon and eggs.

While they enjoyed their unusual breakfast, guests of De Sunday Curry Lime were treated to live Caribbean entertainment. Every month, guests can expect a wide variety of different entertainment attractions.

De Sunday Curry Lime can be considered a companion event to the Kensington hotel's Caribbean night, a theme night featuring music and Caribbean cuisine offered tri-monthly through the end of July. The inaugural event attracted over 250 guests, prompting management and planners to declare the brunch a great success and continue the program again this May.

With expectations of even greater attendance, the Holiday Inn London Kensington Forum will host the second De Sunday Curry Lime on May 25, 2008 from 2:00pm to 6:00pm. This event is open to the public. For reservations and pricing, please call 0207 341 3095.
