The Wimbledon is the oldest major championship in tennis and is regarded by many to be the most prestigious tennis championship in the world. Held annually between late June and the beginning of July for two weeks, the tournament is the third Grand Slam event played each year, preceded by the Australian Open and the French Open and followed by the US Open.

The 2008 Wimbledon Championships will be played from June 23 to July 6. As always, the venue will be the All England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club. Roger Federer and Venus Williams will be the defending champions for the men's and women's championships respectively.

"Our Wimbledon tickets are, as always, individually priced and fans can order as many as they want", says Mr. Boitano, who takes pride in the fact that in 18 years of service, TICKETFINDER.com has never failed its customers. "We have always delivered what has been ordered in a timely and professional manner even when the event is sold out", he proudly proclaims.

Seating chart of the All England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club can be viewed on the ticketing website and fans can pick their seats and order accordingly.
