Stocks Keep Falling: Enron Quadrupled Envisioned by Expert. Investors Burned & Battered. Securities Arbitration Succeeds.

The American economy is in a "Perfect Storm" situation. People from all walks of life are reeling financially. The stock market is a gamble as Wall Street looks to enrich itself at the cost of investors. An expert answers.

/24-7PressRelease/ - LOS ANGELES, CA, June 14, 2008 - It is simple: The economy stinks. "It sucks," said Securities Arbitration Group founder Paul Young in a radio interview today. "It can and likely will get worse as the Main Street person gets ripped off and picked off by Wall Street abuse, wrong and commission or fee-oriented rotten advice."

What to do? Securities arbitration! Biased, they say. "It is the myth they want burned Main Streeters to adopt. But it is a fallacy beyond measure. The stubborn facts reveal that since the 90s, the system of securities arbitration and mediation has been the most fair dispute resolution mechanism in America. Bar none.

"Securities Arbitration Succeeds" has been our mantra for our 20 years of mission-oriented, consumer-centric focused work for one basic reason: It works!

Now, more than ever, your listeners, viewers, readers, friends, relatives, colleagues need to know that if they have been ripped off by Wall Street, recovery is possible in a cost effective, time efficient manner. And that people can learn more about their rights of recourse in all 50 states for free. As in --- FREE.

It is a sorrowful time for investors. A terrible economy is one thing and, as Paul Young stated today, the "perfect storm" shows no signs of clearing soon. Could it be worse? Sure. And the pain compounded for those ripped off by Wall Street. Compounded even more if people have been abused by Wall Street - and then do nothing.

Paul Young. A skilled veteran of the Main Street-Wall Street wars is your best guest with lots to say and something to offer listeners, viewers, and readers.
