Cinema Insomnia's Mr. Lobo to be Guest on Paranormal Talk Show

Shadows in the Dark Welcomes Mr. Lobo from Cinema Insomnia for 2 Hours of Pure Fun

/24-7PressRelease/ - CANTON, NC, June 15, 2008 - Host Jeremiah Greer will welcome Cinema Insomnia's Mr. Lobo for a return visit on June 19th starting at 10pm Eastern Time.

Who is Mr. Lobo? Is he friend or foe? Will he save late night television or destroy it? Shrouded in the obsidian mystique of a formless void, this innovative horror host presides over Cinema Insomnia from the regal heights of the finest rocking chair that 1971 had to offer. The nationally syndicated show has been seen in over 30 television markets - The 2006 Halloween spectacular had a footprint of 45 Million households. The series premieres on BitTorrent (Fall 2007) and will be available to their 20 Million subscribers. Mr. Lobo has made hundreds of live appearances and is an advocate for "Bad Movies". In fact, he claims, "They're not bad movies just misunderstood".

Mr. Lobo is the innovative horror host of the nationally syndicated television series Cinema Insomnia. He is among the most well known and active horror hosts of the 2000's. He also makes numerous live appearances at conventions like Wondercon in San Francisco and Screamfest in Florida. He also takes part in live film shows at the Crest Theatre in Sacramento, the Parkway Theater in Oakland and many others. Mr. Lobo always appears on screen in a suit and tie and is often accompanied by "Miss Mittens", a houseplant with which he often has one-sided conversations.

You can listen to the show by visiting www.shadowsinthedarkradio.com or www.blogtalkradio.com/shadowsinthedark. Shadows in the Dark also has a MySpace profile at www.myspace.com/shadowsinthedarkradio. Callers are always welcome on the show and you can do so by calling 718/508-9887 during the live broadcast.
