Frankie Jonas to appear in Camp Rock 2

With Camp Rock about to debut on Disney Channel June 20th, fans of the Jonas Brothers are eagerly awaiting the much anticipated musical. Now word has it that the youngest of the family, little Frankie Jonas aka "Bonus Jonas" will make an appearance in Camp Rock 2.

/24-7PressRelease/ - BURBANK, CA, June 17, 2008 - Alan Baltes, the publisher of the Acting Info blog, is reporting that pre-production on Camp Rock 2 will likely begin soon after the release of Camp Rock later this month. It comes as no surprise, as Disney has truly taken the success of the High School Musical franchise to the limits, already officially announcing that the will be a High School Musical 4.

And as the Jonas Brothers star rises higher and higher, Camp Rock promises to launch a new mega-star in Demi Lovato. In addition to playing the role of Mitchie Torres in Camp Rock, Demi will be performing with the Jonas Brothers in their upcoming Burning Up Tour which begins on this 4th of July in Toronto. Ironically Toronto was the filming location for Camp Rock. Disney Channel has also announced that Demi Lovato will be the star of her very own series tentatively called "Welcome To Mollywood".

With the recent antics of Miley Cyrus, it seems Disney is way ahead of the game. As a poll on Baltes' Disney Channel Stars blog suggests, the large majority of fans would now rather see the Jonas Brothers in concert than Miley Cyrus. Although with the Hannah Montana Movie currently filming, it appears that Miley has some tween hype still ahead of her.

Lookout Kevin, Joe, and Nick! Here comes Frankie! It was only a matter of time before Frankie got in the game. He already has a cameo appearance in the pilot episode of the upcoming series J.O.N.A.S. which stars the Jonas Brothers and will begin regular production in the fall. No word yet on what role Frankie will play in Camp Rock 2, but any role will give the fans something to cheer about.

As if 3 Jonas' wasn't enough World Domination!
