Speaker Success Online is Recruiting Successful Authors to Assist Professional Speakers

Speaker Success Online, a free online resource website for people interested in starting, managing, and growing a successful speaking career, is recruiting authors and article writers with experience in the public, motivational, or business speaking industry to create insightful content.

/24-7PressRelease/ - BALDWIN, ON, CANADA, July 17, 2008 - Angela Wills, the owner of SpeakerSuccessOnline.com is inviting experienced authors to contribute to the ever-growing website of free resources and become featured article writers. As a successful marketing manager, Wills is looking for experienced speakers or speaking coaches to write articles on motivation, branding, blogging, marketing, and publicity. Pamela Weir, Professional Copywriter and owner of Market to the Moment, has become the newest featured author at the highly targeted speaker resource website.

Weir says, "I'm very excited to be the newest featured author. Over the years, I have gained experience working with leadership development companies and motivational speakers. I really believe that new speakers have much to gain from this free resource site. The website offers people interested in a speaking career the motivation and support they need to get their business off the ground." Her most recent article 5 Reasons Why Speakers Should Podcast explains the benefits that active podcasting can offer speakers who are looking for inexpensive ways to gain a large focused audience.

Wills is interested in writers that can explain or demonstrate how to turn ideas into moneymaking products, create effective website strategies, and use small budgets to get big results, or automate a successful speaking business. The commitment requires a monthly submission of one article, but there is no limit on how many articles writers can submit. The content must be original and unpublished. After one month, authors are free to use their submitted content on their own sites, or other publications.

Wills says, "My goal is to provide a free resource website for speakers and authors who want to create additional income on the internet by advertising their services, increasing their brand awareness and selling more products. We are looking for feature writers with experience and a great interest in speaking to write original articles for the site. As a featured article writer, you can post limitless quality articles, have a bio on the main page, gain valuable links to your own website, and become a recognized expert on the topic of speaking."

Since 2002, Wills has worked directly with speakers, coaches and authors, and her years of experience and creative insight help her clients automate their businesses and make more money online. It is difficult and time-consuming for small business-owners to find all the information they need to be successful, which means a resource like Speaker Success Online can be invaluable.
