Domain Investment Firm secures domain portfolio of WiMax URLs

<http://www.InvestInURLs.com> captures Wimax domain names related to specific products, services and cities.

/24-7PressRelease/ - Dallas, Texas, July 18, 2008 - Dallas Domain Investment Firm, <http://www.InvestInURLs.com>, recently amassed a portfolio of nearly 50 internet addresses, also known as domains or URLs, that relate specifically to geographic regions, products and business services relevant to WiMax. This recent acquisition gives the company a number of additional assets to monetize through domain parking, resell through their domain marketplace, or develop the domains as individual websites.

"We are very excited to add WiMax names to our growing portfolio of Internet Assets. This collection represents both geo-domains and product/service domains and fits perfectly within our investing strategy of only investing in geo and generic keyword domains. We have not mapped out a specific strategy yet, but some of the domains will be developed, a few will be available for sale in the aftermarket, and others we'll hold on to as long-term investments," says company owner Jay Lohmann.

WiMax, or Worldwide Interoperability for Microwave Access, is a telecommunications technology that provides long-range Internet connectivity with a reported 30-mile coverage area. This last-mile technology enables entire cities and it's residents to connect wirelessly through computers and PDAs.

"This purchase will have a long-term positive affect for our company. Wimax is just beginning to take off and the growth potential is enormous. Coupled with our position at the crest of Internet real estate investing boom, we look forward to more opportunities in the months and years to come.
