Pro Pipper Trading will maintain a Forex blog on FX Street.

Ross Yamashita, owner of Pro Pipper Trading, will post and maintain a Forex trading blog on FX Street.

/24-7PressRelease/ - Las Vegas, NV, July 18, 2008 - Yamashita's blog, titled The Trader's Edge, is one of only a handful of contributors selected to maintain a blog on the world's premiere Forex portal, FXStreet.com.

The Trader's Edge will cover many topics associated with Forex trading, including education, trading style, fundamental and technical analysis, money management, market psychology and more. The blog will also give insight to the methodologies and techniques Pro Pipper Trading uses to come up with their analysis and trades. The blog will also walk users through live trades, covering everything from entry to exit strategies.

"I am honored to have a blog on FX Street," says Yamashita. "FX Street has done so much for the Forex industry worldwide and I am happy to be working with them. My goal is that both individual and institutional traders will get something out of my blog."

The Trader's Edge blog is free and can be accessed at <http://tradersedge.fxstreet.com>. To be notified of updates, visitors are encouraged to sign up for the email newsletter (available on The Trader's Edge home page) or RSS feed at <http://feeds.feedburner.com/typepad/fxstreet/tradersedge>.
