Considerably more exposure of properties with featured listings.

Now it's even easier to spread out a property on the internet with ListingVUE.com

/24-7PressRelease/ - Chicago, IL, July 18, 2008 - ListingVUE.com has introduced a way for sellers to truly get the exposure they are seeking with featured listings. Not only do listings show up first on all relevant searches on ListingVUE.com, but now these listings get even more exposure by being put on 10 or 15 additional websites. All the work is done by ListingVUE.com in order to truly attract more buyers to a property. Posting a property to one website isn't enough these days, therefore ListingVUE.com has gone a step further to minimize the amount of time a seller will be sitting in front of a computer pushing out the property they want to sell or rent.

These additional websites go along with the purchase of one of the packages that ListingVUE.com has to offer. Of course these website aren't just mediocre low-traffic sites that don't get any buyers coming to them, these are sites that average a large number of unique visitors on a daily basis that are searching for properties on the real estate market. The turn around for a property being posted to all of these additional sites is just 72 hours and ListingVUE.com even provides links back to where these additional listings can be found. This is truly a step forward in marketing properties on the internet, and most importantly, even when a package has expired the sellers' listing still remains active on ListingVUE.com until it is taken down.
