Signal Relocates to New Wilmington Studio

Signal moves to newly designed Wilmington studio

/24-7PressRelease/ - RALEIGH/WILMINGTON, NC, July 19, 2008 - Signal, a design, marketing, and technology firm located in Raleigh and Wilmington, NC, announces the relocation of the company's Wilmington studio. The new studio is located in Howe Creek Landing on Military Cutoff Road, next to the shopping community of Mayfaire Town Center. This location is only about two miles from Signal's former home in Lumina Station on Eastwood Road.

Signal has been in operation in the Wilmington area since 1996, and the new studio provides a significant increase in square footage that will accommodate the company's future growth for years to come. This marks Signal's second collaboration with architect Andrew Stillwell, who also developed the company's newest studio location in Raleigh that saw completion in November 2007. The mutual effort has produced a contemporary, dynamic atmosphere that both reflects and inspires the creative abilities of the Signal team.

New Studio Address:

710 Military Cutoff Rd.
Suite 300
Wilmington, NC 28405
