IndustrialLeaders.com Partners With Mfg.com To Connect Industrial Buyers and Suppliers Worldwide

The on-line manufacturing marketplace Mfg.com and international publisher of industrial directories and B2B portals IndustrialLeaders.com has developed a new partnership to help worldwide custom manufacturers and parts distributors find new customers

/24-7PressRelease/ - WESTBORO, MA, July 23, 2008 - Industrial Leaders, the business-to-business portal for industrial and technical buyers and suppliers at <http://www.IndustrialLeaders.com> announced today its new partnership with Atlanta, Georgia-based MFG.com, Inc., an on-line manufacturing marketplace that provides quotes from custom manufacturers and parts distributors for engineers and other sourcing professionals. According to Brian O'Shea, an Industrial Leaders spokesperson, the partnership enables the Industrial Leaders to provide a more all-around marketplace for the manufacturing community and industrial professionals seeking to buy or sell equipment, machinery, parts and custom manufacturing services.

According to O'Shea, Industrial Leaders will promote open RFQs (request-for-quotes) from buyers presented on the MFG.com website as well as enable manufacturers and parts distributors to submit price quotes of their own to buyers with open RFQs. Engineers, MRO professionals, supply chain managers and others sourcing for products and services are able to explore profiles from suppliers located across the globe and request quotes from those suppliers that are able to meet their requirements.

"IndustrialLeaders.com mainly focuses on the North American marketplace but our partnership with MFG.com now enables us to reach a wider international audience," says Donald LaBelle, President of Industrial Leaders. He added, "Whether a company is sourcing for parts and wants to get quotes online or is seeking more customers and business opportunities, we can point them in the right direction to find suitable suppliers and qualified buyers utilizing our network of industrial directories and marketplaces."

The products and services providing live RFQs from buyers currently totals over 199 million USD, according to LaBelle. Including live quotes for machining projects, gears, electronics, hardware and fasteners, mechanical power transmission, textiles, woodworking, metal spinning, wire forming, industrial design, fluid and gas flow equipment, cold forming, forging, extrusions, fabrication, tubing, assembly, casting, molding, stamping, engineering services and various industrial and commercial equipment.
