First Atlantic Commerce, the online payment gateway, launches new website

First Atlantic Commerce (FAC) -the online payment gateway- has released its new brand and corporate website with new features including an innovative look and feel, a section dedicated to client sectors and an educational Resource section, amongst others.

HAMILTON, BERMUDA September 27, 2008 /24-7PressRelease/ -- First Atlantic Commerce (FAC), an international, multi-currency online payment gateway, and risk management solutions provider, has launched its new brand and corporate website.

FAC worked with award winning, Bermuda-based web design company, Bermedia, to deliver the site, which has been redesigned and re-branded to reflect the company's personality and a decade of commitment to driving payment innovation.

First Atlantic Commerce site contains many new features including an innovative look and feel with bold graphics and new page layouts, a section dedicated to client sectors, in-depth FAQs, an educational Resource section and "Sign up" button so that visitors and journalists can automatically receive press updates and new product information.

Other enhancements to the website include:

- Print-friendly versions of each web page
- "Email this Page" feature
- "Add to Favourites" feature
- Latest News and Announcements section

The website is meant to provide a friendly user experience, but it was also very important to capture and portray the company knowledge of, and dedication to the online payments and risk industry.

It was added educational content to the FAC website as well as industry sector information with the relevant FAC product details in an effort to convey this.

The site will be further enhanced over the coming months with product brochures available for download, product demos, case studies and other relevant information.
