IndustrialSAVER.com Launches Building Materials On-line Marketplace

Industrial Classifieds, a B2B marketplace for industrial and construction buyers has launched a new e-marketplace for buyers and suppliers of building supplies, materials and allied products.

WESTBORO, MA, October 05, 2008 /24-7PressRelease/ -- IndustrialSAVER, publisher of the B2B marketplace Industrial Classifieds and division of Industrial Leaders (ILG), announced today the launch of its new building materials e-marketplace at <http://industrialsaver.com/classifieds/index.php/cat/8> to connect buyers and suppliers of cabinets, pressure treated wood, building insulation, building wire, electrical boxes, electrical outlets, cement, marble, granite, plaster, paint, asphalt, concrete, caulk, decking, windows, doors, lumber, roofing shingles, vinyl siding, sheetrock, hardwood flooring and a broad variety of other building materials.

Harry Olsen, spokesperson for IndustrialSAVER said the site enables suppliers of building materials to connect with buyers in the market for such products, including builders, contractors, construction firms and other buyers of building products. According to Olsen, the B2B marketplace is one of the fastest growing meeting places for companies looking to buy or sell industrial and construction products.

IndustrialSAVER also provides Open RFQs from buyers of various industrial goods and custom manufacturing services, the company said. New trade leads are added to the site regularly from companies sourcing for various industrial supplies and equipment. According to Olsen, users are able to post demands on the site directly to manufacturers and distributors serving their market area. More information on the Live RFQs is available at <http://industrialleaders.com/mfg.html>.

"The site is one of the most comprehensive industrial marketplaces on the Web and allows users to communicate in real time with professionals able to meet their needs for building materials and other industrial goods," says Olsen. He added, "Industrial Classifieds welcomes anyone involved in the selling or purchasing of building products on a national and international level to come and meet potential buyers and suppliers on the marketplace."
